Do not put confidential or sensitive information in homepage of NTHU email account

Subject: To avoid the confidential or sensitive information leakage, please remove them from your homepage, which is attached on NTHU email account services as soon as possible.

Description

1. The personal webpage attached on NTHU email account services for staff (@mx.nthu.edu.tw), students (@oz.nthu.edu.tw, @m98~@m111.nthu.edu.tw), and units (@my.nthu.edu.tw) are total open to Internet. If you put confidential or sensitive information on the homepage, please remove it as soon as possible to avoid leakage.
2. To use '.htaccess' function for access control, it is very likely to fail, due to many reasons, such as faulty configuration, software or version change, on so on. Additionally, this function can cause security and system performance issues, so it will be disabled in about 3 months. Please take some proper measures depending on your situation, if necessary.
3. Remind again. Do not put any confidential or sensitive information in your homepage to avoid disclosure.
